The theory originated in 1957 in the doctoral dissertations of Dina van Hiele-Geldof and Pierre van Hiele (wife and husband) at Utrecht University, in the Netherlands. The Soviets did research on the theory in the 1960s and integrated their findings into their curricula.* geometry - How do you detect where two line segments ... There's a nice approach to this problem that uses vector cross products. Define the 2-dimensional vector cross product $v \times w$ to be $v_x w_y - v_y w_x$. Suppose the two line segments run from p to $p + r$ and from q to $q + s$. Then any point on the first line is representable as $p + t r$ (for a scalar parameter t) and any point on the second line as $q + u s$ (for a scalar parameter u). Booklets | Maths Centre *Booklets If you need specific information on a particular mathematical topic then you will find it here.
