China - Wikipedia China's one-child policy was part of a birth planning program designed to control the size of its population. Distinct from the family planning policies of most other countries (which focus on providing contraceptive options to help women have the number of children they want), it set a limit on the number of children parents could have, the world's most extreme example of population planning. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/One-child\_policy China trade and wages - Economic Policy Institute Wages in the manufacturing sector are above average because manufacturing is a high-productivity, capital-intensive sector. Unionization rates are higher in manufacturing (10.5 percent in 2012) than in the private sector as a whole (7.3 percent), reflecting labor's greater bargaining power in manufacturing, compared with other sectors of the economy (BLS 2013b).
